Press Release

Glodyne is proud to associate with UIDAI in the launch of the first set of 'Aadhar' numbers in the Country

Wednesday, 29th September, 2010, Mumbai: Glodyne Technoserve Limited, a leading player in technology infrastructure management services (Technology IMS), is proud to associate with the UIDAI in the launch of the first set of 'Aadhar' numbers in the Country from the Tembhli village of Nandurbar District, Maharashtra.

The UID 'Aadhar' numbers were launched today by the Honorable Prime Minister of India, Dr. Manmohan Singh, in the presence of UPA Chairperson, Smt Sonia Gandhi, and UIDAI Chairman Shri Nandan Nilekani. Tembhli with a population of 1,098 will become the first 'Aadhaar' village in the country. Five women and three children were among the ten who received the 12-digit number Unique Identification Number, which will be the link to all demographic details.

The UID implementation apart from name, address and other KYR details, also requires capturing of ten fingerprints, iris scan and facial photograph which is then stored against a unique number. The project will ensure better access of government schemes and programmes to the people.

Commenting on the event, Mr. Annand Sarnaik, Chairman and Managing Director, Glodyne Technoserve Limited said, "We are proud to be associated with UIDAI in the launch of the first ever UID numbers in the Country. The UID is a transformational project and a historic one being implemented in the Country and Glodyne is committed to provide all possible support to the program. We had earlier done the proof of concept, for UID in the state of Bihar, and today we congratulate UIDAI team for the official launch of this ambitious national development project. Today indeed is a BIG day for the all of us."
